bART Guidelines for Reopening August 24, 2020

The bART Center for Music has established clear guidelines for reopening for onsite learning effective immediately. These guidelines have been put in place in order to ensure the safety of our students, families, teaching artists and staff. These guidelines have been carefully implemented to comply with The Center for Disease Control's guidelines and recommendations. The bART Center for Music is a Tulsa based community music school, and the health and well-being of our community is of the utmost importance to us. The bART reserves the right to terminate student's lessons in the case of failure to comply with any guideline listed below.

1. In the event that you do not feel well please call the front desk at 918.794.0330 or email info@thebart.org and cancel your lesson. This includes: headache, stomach ache, sore throat, cough, fever or general malaise.
2. In order to minimize the number of persons in the school, we ask that parents of children 12 and older please drop off and pick up their children for their lessons. Please contact the Executive Director if this is not possible for you, or for any other problems with this.
3. Upon entering the building masks are mandatory.
4. Social distancing is to be observed at all times (6 ft. or more).
5. There will be touch free wall mounted hand sanitizer machines upon entering and stationed throughout the bART. You are also encouraged to wash your hands with soap and water in the bathrooms frequently, as needed.
6. There will be spray disinfectant and paper towels placed throughout shared necessary spaces. We ask that you clean your area before leaving.
7. We have a digital thermometer at the front desk and will test when/if necessary.

These guidelines are subject to change in a continuing effort to comply with CDC guidelines.
